PERSONAL INFORMATION

I have been coaching since 2011 at the youth level starting with U-6 focused on the fundamentals and the recreational aspects of the game. At the same time I was coaching U-18, U-16 and U-14 boys and girls at the competitive level.

My priority for children at this age is to instill in them the love of basketball and to develop their social skills of good communication, cooperation and noble rivalry through the sport. After the initial stage of acquiring the basic skills we proceed to the next level, of daily demanding and competitive practices in order for the young athletes to be ready to join the teams at the competitive level.

I give special attention on skills such as footwork, dribbling, pass, shooting mechanics, rebounds, personal defense and attack. Also on children's collaborations, group mentality and skills related to the right choice of decisions and reactions, which aim for mentally and physically healthy athletes. Also a great experience in individual improvement of athletes (personal training) with the aim of maximizing the positive skills and improving the weaknesses of an athlete.

I was for one year Technical Director of the Academies responsible for the content and organization of the practices, in the basketball team of "Gas Androgeas" (current number of 300 athletes - starting with 7 registered children of the team in 2012). In my duties were included the annual planning and the daily implementation not only the game itself but the public relations and the marketing of the academies department in the city of Heraklio Kreta and the continuing education of the coaches. One more significant function of my position was the organization of camps and tournaments for all the ages of the Academy.

I love to work with young athletes very much and my goal is to help them become good players, but most importantly to give them supplies and experiences so that they become integrated as personalities useful to society.

I attend annually several local or online coaches' seminars (EEC & international) to be fully aware of basketball developments, gaining new knowledge and acquaintances that help me in my personal experience.
